

Dear Editor,

If a thief really wants to break into a Huey (UH-1), locks won't keep him out.

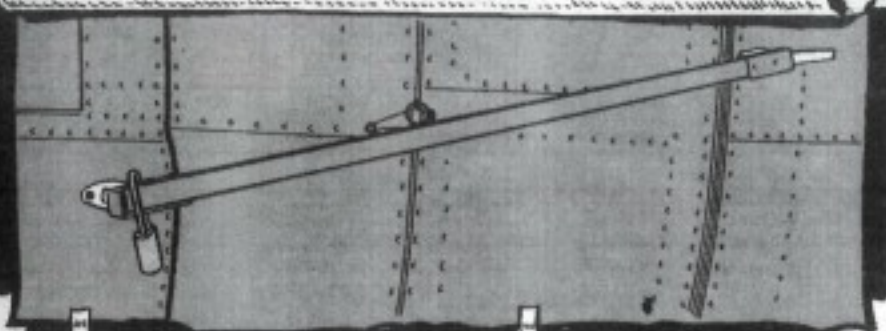

But to keep an honest man honest, we came up with this handy security bar that secures the pilot and cargo doors. It's made from 1/16-in aluminum stock.

Secure the bird by looping the large hole in the bar over the cargo door handle. Insert the other end over the pilot's door handle. Add a lock thru the small hole in the other end of the bar.

One locking bar goes on each side of the bird. Works like a charm.

(Ed Note—Right! You're not modifying the bird, so it looks like a winner.)
